

MOREE SHOW

Jessie wins Moree Showgirl

JESSIE Berger has been announced as this year's Moree Showgirl.

Miss Berger has taken the honour to now act as an ambassador for Moree and rural NSW.

She was amongst nine other entrants this year.

Along with Miss Berger, Elizabeth Lobsey was named runner-up, Samantha Biggs was named Miss Personality and Kayla Coleman was named Miss Personality runner up on Saturday.

Miss Berger will now have the opportunity to go on and compete to be the NSW Showgirl but will first compete at the next level of the competition, which is zone level.

She will also attend an etiquette and deportment weekend at Dubbo along with having the opportunity to meet women from all over the state that are also trying to help promote their town and rural NSW.

The 10 entrants were heavily involved in the show during the weekend, participating in a number of events like judging the junior showgirls, the pet show, sashing winning horses, selling raffle tickets and more.

Organisers said the showgirl competition was a terrific opportunity for young, rural women as it made them step out of their comfort zones and become more involved with the community as well as promoting high self esteem and personal growth.

The showgirl competition is also a fantastic opportunity to become more involved in a community event that has been running for 125 years and to see all the hard work and dedication of the committee that are able to pull it all together.
